Kesavadev was born at Vazhikkulam, near Kuzhikkattoor, in southern Travancore (present-day Kerala) in 1904. At the age of 18, he joined the vakalathu (public reading circle) of M. G. Radhakrishnan, a poet and theologian, and soon became a notable writer. On Radhakrishnan's invitation, he moved to Trivandrum in 1931 to teach at Presidency College. There, he began to write a story, Odayil Ninnu, that would introduce him to a wider audience. It was published in 1942 in a magazine. The book sold over four lakh copies in its first two months of release. The novel dealt with the lives of the rural poor, who were economically and socially marginalised. The book had a great impact on Malayalam literature and introduced many new themes. It won him the Sahitya Akademi Award. This novel also won him the Vayalar Award in 1962. Odayil Ninnu has been translated into English by M. P. Paul and published as From the Gutter. The novel can be considered as an early example of a "community" novel in Malayalam. Odayil Ninnu is one of a number of important novels written by P. Kesavadev during the 1940s and 50s. Others include Kasthooriman, Chandran Nambiar and Mahasweta Devi. P.
