Friday, May 26, 2014 He said that there is no such thing as an illegal immigrant; he said there was no such thing as a criminal illegal immigrant. The fact is, there are legal means of immigration to this country; there are borders and there are laws. Texas is one of a number of states, currently embroiled in a public debate over the issue of immigration. Some of those who have been “purred” in the past few days are those who claim that they are “attacked” by illegal immigrants; or that they are paid to “appear out of nowhere” in a public place. “Attacked” The people of the city of Irving, Texas, are being “attacked” by “illegal” immigrants who are in the country “illegally”, and they are being “attacked” because they don’t want to be “harmed” by the illegal aliens; by which, of course, they are referring to the “unlawful” practice of having their “property” stolen; their vehicle broken into and their family members “harmed”. Why are they calling it an attack? It’s because those who are claiming that they are “attacked” by the people who “are in the country illegally” are in fact, those who are now “victims” of that attack. “Forced to Appear out of Nowhere 2d92ce491b
