Students and other college students have the right to maintain academic integrity on the Internet and elsewhere. They also have the right to decide whether or not to use such sites for their own purpose. This lesson explores different types of Internet behavior and how they may affect one's academic integrity, and why it is important to stay ethical. Research: There are numerous web sites that help students understand Internet ethics. One example is the Internet Practice Guide from the National Center for Educational Responsibilities ( However, we have focused on researching sites that we
