This is the film. Lifetime I totally fell in love with this film. It is so inspiring. She definitely did not have the easiest path, but she showed us that no matter how difficult life can be, there is always a light at the end of the tunnel, and we need to keep our eyes on it. It was refreshing to see a film about a non-regular person, who had a unique passion and way of making a career out of it. I really wanted to see how she approached her career and school decisions, the ideas of connecting with the opposite sex and deciding when to pursue something. It was an empowering film and I feel it really opened my eyes to a new perspective on life. She is a really nice person to watch, even if you do not care for her style, she is someone you can admire for her character. This film will open your eyes to the beauty of change. Change is such an important concept in life and how we navigate the world around us. There is constant change in the world, even the most serene areas, big changes such as war. And then there is the most frightening feeling in the world, change in yourself. That is the feeling of evolution. And that is what this film touches on.
