When using Public Key Infrastructure (PKI) to transfer files securely, a common problem is that you don't want to disclose the public key used to encrypt the file. A possible solution to this is to use FilePhile, a file-sharing application you can install on your computer, which allows you to transfer files securely without having to reveal the public key to the recipient. Installation: FilePhile can be installed as a Firefox extension or as a Java applet. Firefox extension: Java applet: Support Us: You can make a donation to support us: Alternative Screenshots: This wiki page is a stub. Add links to images you want to use. Q: Retrieving image from Firebase storage from another app I have found this amazing tutorial to upload and retrieve images from Firebase storage. Now I would like to put this code in another android app. Can I use the same code and just put it in another android app? My code is: private void uploadImage() { // Create the storage reference by using the database name in Firebase StorageReference storageRef = FirebaseStorage.getInstance().getReference(); // Build the image path in the storage reference String imagePath = "FYYO_Portraits/" + imageName; storageRef.putFile(imagePath).addOnSuccessListener(new OnSuccessListener() { @Override public void onSuccess(UploadTask.TaskSnapshot taskSnapshot) { // Get the Uri to the image location //imageUri = taskSnapshot.getDownloadUrl().toString(); Log.d(TAG, "Image uploaded successfully"); } }); } I want to use this

System Requirements:

Minimum: OS: Windows 7 64-bit CPU: Intel Core i5-760 / AMD FX-6350 RAM: 8GB GPU: GeForce GTX 660 or better HDD: 23GB Additional Notes:I can see most of the glitches in the Enron Online, I've tried to fix them all and see if they can be repeated, however, when I get to the Financial Transactions page, I can't see any of the Transactions that they entered for today (which is quite odd), and I can only
