Traywindows is a small software application whose purpose is to help you hide currently active windows with the aid of a hotkey. It can be installed on all Windows versions out there. Portable program You can take advantage of Traywindows' portability status and run it on the target PC without administrative privileges. Gaining access to its GUI requires only a double-click on the executable file. You may also store it on pen drives or other portable devices to have it with you all the time. It does not write entries to your Windows registry and leave other settings behind so you may get rid of it by deleting the files that you have grabbed from the Internet. Unobtrusive running mode You can look for Traywindows in your system tray area. It resides quietly without interfering with your work. You may get access to its features via a right-click on its tray icon. A help manual is not included in the package but you can get an idea about how the tool operates in a short amount of time, thanks to its intuitive set of options. How it works Traywindows offers you the possibility to hide the current window or all windows using preset hotkeys. In addition, you can show all concealed windows using a predefined keyboard shortcut combination. You are allowed to reassign the hotkeys according to your liking and apply the aforementioned hiding rules only for a user-defined number of programs. The utilities can be set up by simply specifying their names. Other important settings worth being mentioned enable you to access a list with favorite files and browse in your computer for a specific item. Tests have pointed out that Traywindows carries out a task quickly and without errors. It does not eat up a lot of CPU and memory resources so the overall performance of the computer is not affected. Final observations To sum things up, Traywindows delivers a simple and efficient software solution for helping you make some room on your desktop by hiding all windows with a single hotkey. It can be tweaked by rookies and professionals alike. A typical problem when it comes to software security is trusting inexperienced users. It takes just one careless click to inadvertently grant access to and/or damage a whole lot of important files. A good news is that there are much better ways of coping with this troublesome situation. Many users are still reluctant when it comes to digital precautions. They are usually satisfied with locking their doors, turning off the lights and installing software solutions that block access to websites. Unfortunately, there is Setting a keyboard combination for a keyboard shortcut is a real pain. However, no more. You no longer have to remember the various combinations! Just assign one keyboard combination to each shortcut, and the software will remember them all for you. Moreover, with Combo Maker you can create groups of keyboard combinations and keyup events to have all assigned to a single keyboard shortcut. Want to assign a combination to the window menu of any program, or to a menu key, or to a specific key such as Ctrl? No problem. It's easy and fun! The programming of the tool is not complex. With only a few buttons, you can create your shortcuts in a snap. The app is also very intuitive. You can add, edit, and delete key combinations at any time. Another feature that may be helpful for some users is the possibility to assign "hotkeys" to file associations. If you want to open a file in one program but type it in another, assign a keyboard combination to the association. When typing, your default program will pop up automatically.
