Keymacro is a dedicated software for Windows Mobile smartphones and web enabled devices. How to make the owner of your smartphone or tablet forget about the password for any web site you have selected, if you have ever used the built-in web browser in your smartphone, you will know that in most cases you need to be logged in your device to access the corresponding web page, as if you need to pass the security test, you need to enter a password. The main goal of the Keymacro software is to allow you to gain access to any web site without needing to know the password. No need to log in to the web page after you start the program, to ensure that you will never forget the password again, you can directly input the URL address to the Keymacro software from any web browser in your smartphone, tablet or laptop. For example, if you want to log into some web site, such as the tpsan.co.kr, you only need to enter the corresponding URL to the Keymacro software, and a second later you will be logged in without needing to remember your password. This will also work for any mobile applications, such as applications for online shopping, or mobile game applications. And of course, you can use this application to quickly read the full text of the web site you want to read. KEYMACRO Features: 1. You can customize the Favorite websites list 2. You can search web sites by name 3. Automatically check the URL address of the web sites you want to visit. 4. You can start a web site from the history of visited web sites. 5. You can export the favorite websites list to other formats such as PDF, TXT, RTF, CSV or HTML. How to use the Keymacro software: 1. Install the Keymacro software to your mobile phone or tablet 2. Run the software and set up the favorite websites list, including log-in to web sites you want to visit 3. Start any web site from the history of visited web sites 4. Access the favorite websites list in other formats, such as PDF, TXT, RTF, CSV, HTML etc. Updates and information on the latest version of the Keymacro software can be found at: 1.
