KeyMacro is a lightweight, and yet powerful utility designed to record every single mouse and keyboard keystroke, as well as control keypad keys on a Windows computer. It runs in the background and may be activated whenever you need. KeyMacro is a Windows program that records every keystroke, mouse button click, and special keypad keystroke. The recorded keystrokes and mouse events are then displayed in real-time, or after you replay the recording. You may use keystrokes to quickly open any file or application, quickly retrieve information, or quickly create a task. The program captures your mouse gestures, too, and may be used to move windows and scroll web pages, or to control the cursor. The recorded keystrokes and mouse events are automatically created in a specific log file. You may also create unlimited text files and link them to a specific keystroke. KeyMacro features: - Allows you to create a separate log file for every program and file you choose; - Easy to use interface; - Re-plays recorded keystrokes and mouse events; - Captures mouse gestures; - Allows you to create unlimited text files and link them to a specific keystroke; - Allows you to see how each keystroke is interpreted; - Can store keystrokes and mouse events as they are happening; - Uses 50% CPU power and 20 MB of RAM to save the recorded events in the log file; - Supports almost all Windows programs, including Internet Explorer, MS Office, etc. - Includes KeyMacro for Windows, which allows you to select the file that the program should record from the list of programs and files in the computer. KeyMacro also includes the KeyMacro Lite, which is designed for Windows Vista/7/8. It allows you to select the program and the keystrokes/mouse events that the software should record from a Windows start menu, with the ability to select an unlimited number of programs and shortcuts. KeyMacro Lite also allows you to set the computer to automatically record the mouse, clicks and keystrokes that you want to record on each start. You may also choose to save the log file and open it later. KeyMacro for Windows is actually a virtual keyboard that you can use to quickly open any file or application on your computer. Simply place the KeyMacro for Windows virtual keyboard on your screen and press any key on your computer keyboard. Once installed, the program does 77a5ca646e

News iPod Nano 7 is not really that much better than the Nano 6, but there is still room for improvement. With the latest firmware it is not much better at handling lengthy periods of use. Such is the story of the new firmware for the iPod Nano 7 that comes loaded with some new features and some basic ones. Subscribers to one of the most popular channel-surfing services will no longer be restricted to 2.5 hours of skipping during commercial-free periods. Pandora has announced that after June 14th, its users will be able to listen to as much as 24 hours of music on the web site. Pandora is an online radio that allows its users to listen to personalized stations full of songs they like. The service was originally released back in 2004 and the latest release from the company already offers its users an average of 50 million new songs per day. With the release of the new set of Windows 7 operating system and the ready access to the existing version, Windows XP users are now the one waiting to give the next version a try. Microsoft decided to give the maximum priority to the Windows 7 users, who will have access to it for free, while the existing version is only available in the beta stages. The company has stressed that the latest version of the operating system will be updated at least once a year. Thus, Windows 7 users will get all the updates for the latest versions of Microsoft's Windows products. With the new iPod Nano 7, Apple has changed the design by giving it more industrial touches. The new watch-like device comes in two colors: white and silver. The case now comes in a new pattern, giving a new look. The new white and silver models have the same dimensions as the previous ones, though they have more surface to hold the back cover, which gives more space for the new touch-sensitive buttons. The same design, however, has been adopted for the front panel, which has two buttons for controlling the scroll wheel. The back cover is also easily opened by removing the snap-in plastic piece that holds the 2.5-inch, 80,000-colors LCD screen in place.
