=== The icons have been designed to look like the icons of the original Battlestar Galactica tv series. The actual words that these icons were named after were taken directly from the tv series, without any modification or change. This icon pack has been created for users that want to add a better look to their desktop, file managers and directories. Not only can you use these icons as desktop icons, but you can also use them as file extension icons. The icons are separated into two categories – Battlestar Galactica and Battlestar Galactica Tab. The former type of icons have been created using the Battlestar Galactica tv show logo, while the later ones resemble the appearance of the tabs that were used in the tv series. The package contains both icons in regular size and in small size (48x48px). You can use them as desktop icons, as file extensions, in drop boxes and in folders, as well as in launchers. Also, they can be used to launch any application. Some of the included file extensions are represented by the different tv show logos, while others represent the original icons that were used in the tv show. The provided desktop icons can be used not only in Windows but also in MAC OS and on the Linux operating system. You can get these icons in the following formats: PNG, ICO, and SVG. These formats can be used individually or in combination. All the icons have to be designed specifically for the icon pack you are about to use them. In spite of these positive elements, the party has several flaws in its formation and procedure that make it difficult for it to enter into regular parliament, and reinforce the suspicion among some observers that the party is of little substance. The party claimed to have 43 000 members but this figure has been seriously challenged. The party's platform, policies, and debates have been criticized for their poor intellectual depth and shoddiness. In the 1989 parliamentary election, the party received no
