About us The Musical Instruments Direct is totally independent and not-for-profit. It's run by freelance journalist Karen Hardy and fuelled by a love of rock, roll, blues, soul, funk and soul-inspired forms of dance. We also love classical and metal. of a state, reached by the physical education of a state by the uniform physical education programs made available to all students in the state." 34 C.F.R. § 300.500 (emphasis added). In interpreting the above statutory and regulatory language, the Court noted that, in order to be considered a "uniform physical education program," a school must offer a "minimum" of 4 hours of physical education a week. 34 C.F.R. § 300.500(a)(1)(i)(c). The Court went on to note that 30 minutes of physical education a week did not constitute the minimum. Rather, as the Court noted, 30 minutes was not sufficient time in which a teacher could provide a "program of physical education," and stated that § 300.500 mandates the delivery of "at least" 4 hours of physical education a week. 34 C.F.R. § 300.500(b)(3) (emphasis added). The Court further noted that a school system must offer a "minimum" of 4 hours of physical education a week in order for a state to be considered "pro-active," and that, per § 300.500(a)(1)(i)(c), a school must offer at least 4 hours of physical education per week in order to qualify as "adequate," and receive a passing grade. Although the Court did not necessarily find that New York failed to meet the requirements of 34 C.F.R. § 300.500, the Court found that New York was not pro
