some sewing done. About Me I am a stay at home mom to my two little girls, Gabriela and Alana. I am married to the most wonderful husband. He works in the oil fields, but he keeps me supplied with yarn and fabric all the time. He is the most supportive husband, and I enjoy creating for him! UFC president Dana White says there's no benefit to watching Jon Jones train for his fight at UFC 214, and that it's even possible Jones didn't train at all. More from USA Today.com "It's not like he's training up there in Colorado, but he is training up there, so why are we on this (expletive), like why are we trying to film him training up there?" White told the Joe Rogan Experience podcast. "He's not fighting up there, so why are we even here?" Jones (23-1 MMA, 17-1 UFC) has put his hand in the air and taken a fight on short notice to defend his light heavyweight title. He'll step in for Daniel Cormier (19-1 MMA, 10-1 UFC), who's been forced to withdraw from the fight after suffering an injury. Jones will meet challenger Alexander Gustafsson (16-2 MMA, 7-1 UFC) at UFC 214 on July 29 in Anaheim, Calif. White said he would like to see Jones in the octagon again before he retires. "Yeah, for sure, if he doesn't retire," White said. "I'd like to see him in the octagon one more time, but I think the end game might be he ends up retiring. I mean, he has to have a huge payday here (UFC 214), and he's got to be a huge pay day. He's not going to turn down that payday."
