AntiCrash offers a Windows utility that automatically saves the most recent documents you are working on at the time of a crash. For example, if your last document was saved at 12:00:00, then the program will save it at 12:00:00. This way, you will not lose any work or corrupted data when you restart your computer. We found that this software was not as comprehensive as other security programs we tested. However, the more comprehensive security programs did not do much more than AntiCrash . Lifebelt will automatically back up all open files if corruption occurs, ensuring that you always recover all the files you are currently working on. It is responsive and knows what to say and when. It is not possible to list all the functions of this software on one web page. AntiCrash
